Fun!

N U^B O

NUBO is introducing our first School Holiday Fun program and we can't wait for you to join us!

We are collaborating with specialists from multiple industries and professional fields to curate a variety of bespoke, age-appropriate programs for children, as well as supporting parents by utilising our comprehensive resource network to provide expert parenting advice and knowledge in areas such as First Aid and nutrition.

Each package runs for 2 hours and includes two exciting workshops, and complimentary morning or afternoon tea. A passionate team of Early Years Educators, Nutritionists and Specialists collaborate to deliver an immersive and enlightening experience.

Get ready to have some serious fun AND learn lots of cool things!

We love to collaborate!

Meet our School Holidays Brands + Specialists:

Children have this innate ability to live in the moment, and not worry about what has just happened or what is about to happen, Alysse from Young Yoga aims to encourage this mindful practice to children of all ages. Yoga is the experience that positively encourages children to maintain that natural ability into teenage and adulthood, regardless of life's social, financial or circumstantial stresses.

The WeDo Game is a collection of 30 creative, fun, screen free activities for families to do. Together. Created by a young Sydney family and their 7 year old daughter, the game promotes quality family time free from phones, laptops and the TV. Described as a "smart parenting tool," The WeDo Game has won numerous national awards, and inspired 1000s of families to disconnect. And reconnect.

Rescueblue is an infant and child first aid company. Founder Theo Mallos is an Intensive Care Paramedic with over 10 years experience in Emergency Medicine, the recipient of 2018 Victor Chang Award for excellence in pre-hospital cardiac care and author for bubhub.com.au. Rescueblue focuses on the fact that basic first aid saves lives. Rescueblue's truly valuable hands on Little Aid Workshop runs for approximately 3 hours and is aimed at empowering parents with the skills to deal with a life threatening emergency.

Every time a product is thrown away, all the materials and energy that went into its initial production go to waste. Their value is wiped out. Forever. At Reverse Garbage, our role is to save materials from going to waste in landfill and to renew their value by making them available for reuse by families, students, artists and community groups. In Reverse Garbage workshops the kids will get the chance to design and make something to take home with them, as well as being encouraged to think about sustainability and the value of creative reuse.

Su-en created the Little Bumblebees Learning Program so that children could experience the wonder and curiosity of technology through games and activity. She holds a doctorate in computer science where she crafted computers to turn the tables on hackers (called a HoneyPot) and this led to a decade working in federal government cyber security. Su-en now spends her days exploring different ways to capture the hearts and minds of children to embrace Science Technology Engineering and Maths (STEM).
